A Police Station Where All Are Welcome Among India's Top 10

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Begumpur police station in outer Delhi has been selected the city's best police station and one of the top 10 in India. The police station had focused community engagement and taken steps to ensure accessibility for every body. It installed 400 CCTV cameras in areas within its jurisdiction with the help of residents and also roped in the local youth for patrolling to catch some chain snatchers and robbers.

On Friday, police commissioner S N Shrivastava presented the certificate of excellence given by the Union home ministry to Inspector Jai Bhagwan, SHO, Begumpur. Pranay Tayal, DCP (Rohini) was also present on the occasion.

Begumpur area has a diverse population of over two lakhs. Police emphasised community policing and engaged people to work along with officers. The initiative also included regular interaction with RWAs and with senior citizens through WhatsApp groups for grievance redress. The SHO also involved good Samaritans and youth in curbing crime in the area. The community initiatives yielded good results after youths in Rohini's Sector-37, along with police personnel, carried out patrolling in the night and helped nab a gang of snatchers and robbers.

For easier accessibility, the beat staff is briefed on a regular basis and are kept informed about everything related to the area. The beat personnel have been instructed to ensure their phone numbers are available to the citizens so that they can be easily contacted at times of need. From child-friendly rooms to digitalisation of records, the Begumpur police station has it all.

Special emphasis was given to welfare of the staff, including provision of high-quality work environment, hygienic barracks and toilets, mess facilities, weekly rest for the staff and rewards for good work. Further, in order to promote standardised delivery of services to the public, constant efforts are being made on the digitalisation of records and processes.

The ranking is done based on parameters determined by the home ministry annually. They were developed along the lines of the directions given by PM Narendra Modi to police directors-general at the 2015 conference in Kutch, Gujarat.

Surveys were conducted across the country, with minimum notification time given to the police stations so as to capture actual results. The selection of the police stations was based on data analysis, direct observation and public feedback. The survey team also randomly visited various areas. In Begumpur, it visited Rajiv Nagar, Jain Nagar and Begumpur and recorded the citizens' feedback. They also monitored checkings conducted at the pickets and the on-ground situation.

The survey team also analysed the CCTNS entries and records of the police stations and visited the malkhanas. It inspected the basic amenities for visitors, waiting areas, toilets, drinking water, the public facilitation desks, barracks, rooms for women constable, safety and security of the armoury and other parameters as per the standards of the country's best police stations.

Her Family Given Thallium In Fish Dish In Jan

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Divya Sharma, wife of Varun Arora, the man who allegedly poisoned her and other members of her family in January, died on Thursday after being in a coma since March 6. Her sister and mother had died of thallium poisoning last month, while her father is still under medical treatment.

Arora had poisoned his wife's family by mixing thallium in a fish dish he cooked in west Delhi's Indrapuri on January 31. Police said they had identified the person who sold the thallium to Arora and are verifying some facts before making arrests.

Arora, a Greater Kailash-I resident, was arrested on March 24, two days after the death of his mother-in-law, Anita Sharma, hospitalised on March 4. Her younger daughter, Priy-Anka, had succumbed to the poisoning on February 15. The elder daughter, Divya, Arora's wife, was hospitalised on March 6 in a comatose state. Father-in-law, Devender Sharma, is under treatment.

A police officer said that they were informed on Thursday that Divya too had succumbed to the poisoning. "Three people have died so far Arora has been arrested. The condition of Devender Sharma is okay and he is recuperating. We have traced the company from which Arora bought thallium and we are checking if the chemical was procured through illegal means," the officer said.

Arora had not served the deadly dish to his four-year-old twin sons, giving them milk instead. Divya's relatives have requested custody of the two boys.

"We are yet to be given care of the children," said a relative. "Divya was in coma since the first day of her hospitalisation and Arora is under medical custody. We want the strictest of legal action taken against him."

Arora told police that he had attempted to kill all members of his in-laws' family, including his wife, because she had undergone abortion last year on her parents' advice after developing some medical complications. Police said Arora believed the aborted foetus was the incarnation of his father, who had died in 2019.

Two murder mysteries solved, six in police net

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The mystery of two unidentified bodies found on the roadside in Samaypur Badli and Wazirabad on April 4 and 5 has been solved. The first was the result of a woman plotting her husband's murder with her boyfriend's help, while the second death occurred after a brawl between two friends after one of them misbehaved with the other's wife.

In the first case, five people, including a juvenile, have been apprehended. The deceased was identified as Wasi Ahmed. The prime accused, Mukesh (32), had an illicit relationship with Ahmed's wife Farzana (35). He had roped in his friends, Sachin (19), Vikas (20) and the juvenile, to commit the crime. A team led by ACP Vivek Bhagat and Inspector Anil Kumar was formed to investigate the case.

DCP (Outer-North) Rajiv Ranjan Singh said, "After scanning CCTV footage and analysing technical details, Farzana was nabbed, who led cops to the others." She fell in love with Mukesh when her husband was admitted in a drug rehabilitation centre. When Ahmed returned, he beat her up for being in the illicit relationship, which prompted her to plan the murder. On April 3 night, Ahmed was stoned and bludgeoned to death in Sanjay Gandhi Transport Nagar.

In the second case, one Ravinder Ravi was arrested for the murder of the man found in Wazirabad. Police had received a call about the body around 7.15am on April 5. The body was identified through a tattoo on the deceased's hand, which read Sonu.

DCP Anto Alphonse said, "Cops found Rs 590 in Sonu's pockets, so a robbery bid was ruled out. They finally zeroed in on Ravi, who told them that he had gone to Sonu's house late at night for liquor." As Sonu stepped out to buy alcohol, Ravinder began to misbehave with his wife. When Sonu returned, they got into a fight. Ravinder later killed him at an isolated spot.

SC says protesters cannot block public roads for long

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Friday reiterated that public roads cannot be blocked for long by protesters and there should be free flow of traffic and implored Uttar Pradesh and Haryana governments on a petition seeking clearance of roads at Delhi borders blocked by farmers agitating against farm bills.

A bench of Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul and Hemant Gupta made it clear that it was not dealing with the larger issue of farm laws which could be dealt with politically, judicially or administratively but it was concerned about the blocking of roads.

The court said there cannot be continuous inconvenience for people for a long time by the agitators by blocking roads and some arrangements had to be made so that people do not suffer. It posted the hearing for April 19.

Earlier, the bench had issued notice to the Delhi Police on the plea of a Noida-based woman who alleged that it took her more than two hours to commute due to the road block. She alleged in her petition that she is a single parent and it has become a nightmare to travel to Delhi and sought the court's intervention.

She alleged in her petition that the agitation was being done to defame the government and the country by opposing the laws passed by Parliament.

Farmers and police get ready for 24-hour KMP blockade

Chandigarh/Bathinda: Haryana Police have issued a traffic advisory in view of the Sanyukta Kisan Morcha's (SKM) plan to block the Kundli-Manesar-Palwal (KMP) expressway for 24 hours, starting from 8am on Saturday, and impact the movement of lakhs of vehicles on the busy highway which runs around Delhi. The SKM plans to hold sit-ins at all 11 toll plazas on the highway. Tents may also be pitched at certain points or toll plazas on the highway, if need be. Activists of farm organisations on Friday left for protests on the Delhi borders. TNN

The Supreme Court had last year ruled that the authorities, in future, should not permit Shaheen Bagh-type protests involving blocking of roads and public spaces, and said such expression of dissent should be organised at designated places without causing inconvenience to the public at large.

Striking a balance between the democratic right to protest and need to spare people the inconvenience resulting from blockades, the court had said staging protests is a constitutional right and emphasised that an issue being sub judice could not be a deterrent for an agitation on the same.
