

Wipro Tarang Authorized Test Lab for Alexa

Introduction

Amazon's Alexa Voice Service (AVS) enables third-party device manufacturers to join the Amazon smart devices ecosystem.

By integrating with AVS, brands can offer voice-responsive products featuring Alexa capabilities.

Yet before launching a product, meeting Amazon's certification requirements is an essential step. Wipro Tarang Authorized Test Lab for Alexa partners with manufacturers to cover the necessary tests for acoustics, music validation, user experience, and others.

Key takeaways

Ensure voice-activated devices meet Amazon's certifications with Wipro Tarang Authorized Test Lab for Alexa which can deliver comprehensive testing for Amazon's range of requirements.

Our team's AVS expertise provides the compliancy leadership needed to get products on the market quickly and efficiently.

Key benefits

Developers and manufacturers can work directly with Wipro Tarang Authorized Test Lab for Alexa to test and submit their products for certification and ensure compatibility with all the AVS-supported languages.

Our ATL also helps device makers expedite certification timelines and accelerate time to market.
